Energy Efficiency

One of the best things that we can do to save money and help the environment is improving energy efficiency in our homes and conserving energy however we can. This could mean lowering the thermostat, insulating, purchasing energy efficient appliances when it is time to replace them, and sealing and caulking leaks.

Stark County will be receiving an Energy Efficiency (EE) & Conservation Block Grant as part of the federal stimulus package. A large portion of the grant will be used to carry out energy efficiency retrofits to nine county-owned buildings, which will result in huge savings in utility costs annually. Projects of interest to homeowners include programmable thermostat rebates of $25, which will be issued for Energy Star Thermostats purchased during the program period. Energy efficiency revolving loans will also be available to homeowners to help purchase EE windows, furnaces, hot water tanks, insulation and the like. This will be coordinated with the Stark County Housing Rehab Program. TSP's website or Regional Planning's site at www.rpc.co.stark.oh.us will have details as they become available. Keep in mind that the grant has not yet been awarded, so the programs won't start for 1-2 months. The City of Canton also received a grant, and the programs offered by the County do not apply to Canton residents. However, the Stark County Community Action Agency is receiving extra winterization funds through the stimulus package, so they are another source of help. Plan now to do what you can to make your home more comfortable and energy efficient.
